Healthy eating is Emily's 'secret recipe' for long life

Emily with her grandchildren and great–grandchildren at the party Code1081089

FAMILY and friends organised a get–together to celebrate great–grandmother Emily Roughley's special milestone.

Emily, who was born in School Lane, Skelmersdale, enjoyed a party at St Teresa's Social Club in Up Holland to mark her 100th birthday, surrounded by sons Derek, 73, Dennis, 63, and their wives, four grandchildren and seven great–grandchildren.

And the centenarian was given an added surprise when Skelmersdale Prize Band – which her father was a member of – turned up to play for her.

Emily, who has lived at Alma Green Care Home, in Up Holland, for the last 18 months, also received a telegram from the Queen.

According to Dennis, healthy eating is the secret to his mum's longevity.

He said: "She was overwhelmed at the party and enjoyed it very much. She did not know Skelmersdale Prize Band were coming as we had kept it a secret.

"I think she has lived to such a good age partly because she has always eaten well and never binged on food. All her food used to be home–cooked.

"She has always looked after herself and was not one for ready meals."

NO ROOM AT THE FOOD BANK!

Report by Henry James

Volunteers fear donations may be lost through lack of storage space

VOLUNTEERS at a Skelmersdale food bank have issued a desperate appeal for more storage space amid fears that they could miss out on donations from their major benefactors.

Helpers at the Digmoor Community Food Bank, based at the Evermoor Hub in Birleywood, currently provide emergency essential supplies of food and other items to residents of the local area who are suffering real hardship.

Clients must be referred by an agency and the food, cleaning and personal care products are donated by local companies and caring members of the local community.

However, helpers at the centre say they may have to turn away the donations they receive from the big companies in the town due to a lack of sufficient storage space.

And they fear that will lead to the companies withdrawing their much–appreciated support in future.

Margaret Highton, one of the volunteers at the facility, which covers all of West Lancashire, praised the firms' generosity but also admitted concerns if they were unable to accept donation due to a lack of space.

She said: "The big firms come to us and offer us pallets of stuff but if we say no to them we may not be approached again. All the big companies, like Walkers, Procter and Gamble, Premier foods and All About Food, are very generous.

"However, as we are a community centre and not a warehouse, we sometimes find it difficult to find somewhere to put their donations and have to keep the pallets in the hall.

"Obviously, we don't want to refuse donations so we have got to find somewhere to store them.

"We are hoping that a local business or individual can provide us with somewhere to store our stock, such as a lock–up or something similar.

"We are looking for something bigger than a garage – and ideally we'd like to be offered the space for free, or at a very reasonable price."

• ANYONE who can help is asked to call 01695 727483.

Mayor signs off with £16,500 charity boost

Councillor Stephenson presents cheques to charities she supported in her mayoral year.

THE outgoing Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Doreen Stephenson, signed off from her year of office by presenting cheques totalling £16,500 to her designated local charities.

The final total was reached by Cllr. Stephenson and her husband and consort John, with the support of the Mayor's Charity Committee, with a range of fundraising events at venues throughout the borough over the last 12 months.

Cllr. Stephenson said: "It has been a real pleasure for me to raise these funds and John and I are very grateful to the hard–working members of the Mayor's Charity Committee. I have many happy memories of the fundraising events that have been organised and I hope the money we have raised will make a big difference to these very worthy causes."

The Skem Men–aces football team for adults with learning disabilities received a cheque for £12,000 which will go towards a new minibus.

Team manager, Carl Eaton, said: "Transport is a huge expense for us and we have been talking about buying a minibus for five years. Thanks to the money from the mayor's charity we have been able to sign on the dotted line for the vehicle and we will be very proud to drive around the country in our minibus."

Home–Start Central Lancashire received £2,000 to help train new volunteers to help its work in supporting families with young children who are experiencing difficulties.

Manager, Carole Lee, said: "Being one of the mayor's charities this year has been fantastic for us in helping raise our profile. The money raised will go towards training new volunteers to help families and work with the four family support groups in West Lancs."

A further £2,000 was donated to Ormskirk Hospital Radio.

Brian Conlan, programme controller, said: "We are very grateful for this funding to upgrade our equipment and help us provide a service to even more people. Many West Lancs residents use Southport Hospital and we have been able to start broadcasting to there as well as Ormskirk."

A further £500 has been donated to the spire renovation fund at St Cuthbert's CE Church, Halsall, which aims to raise more than £300,000 for the Grade 1 listed building.

New council economic chief vows to deliver long–awaited town–centre regeneration

Report by Henry James

THE new champion for economic development on West Lancs Borough Council has vowed to finally deliver the long–awaited regeneration of Skelmersdale town centre.

Councillor Frank McKenna says he wants to create an environment that provides the borough with the opportunity of growing its economy and attracting jobs and investment to the area.

Returning to local politics after an absence of 15 years, Cllr. McKenna says that his experience in the private sector, along with his understanding and appreciation of what the public sector can help to support, provides him with the confidence of being able to deliver in his new role.

He said: "I am delighted to have been asked to drive forward our economic development strategy, which includes the long–overdue regeneration of Skelmersdale town centre.

"For far too long Skem has been seen as the borough's problem, when in fact the town should be seen as West Lancashire's great opportunity and the place where we can begin to develop and grow our local economy.

"With the Northern Powerhouse now firmly established as a major plank of government policy over the next five years, West Lancashire is an ideal location to sell itself as a place that is at the heart of that powerhouse.

"30 minutes away from the North West's two major economic hubs of Liverpool and Manchester, superb motorway connectivity, the best university in the UK and a whole range of successful businesses across the borough, makes the offer we have here compelling and attractive."

And Cllr. McKenna criticised the previous Conservative borough council administration for not being robust enough in marketing the area and shouting more about its strengths.

"West Lancashire may only be a relatively small borough, but that doesn't mean we shouldn't try and punch above our weight. We need to manage growth, not decline. It is a travesty that the previous administration abandoned any genuine attempt to work in partnership with the private sector, abdicated from any responsibility to create new job opportunities across the borough, and was satisfied in simply embarking on a series of service and job reductions that have left West Lancashire a much poorer place."

He confirmed that progressing with the Skelmersdale town centre regeneration project was a priority.

"Our MP Rosie Cooper has been fighting for this with one hand tied behind her back. A lack of urgency, ambition and aspiration from the borough council leadership has allowed developers to play each other off and leave the people of Skelmersdale frustrated and let down.

"I will be sitting down with St Modwen and the owners of the Concourse in June and asking them exactly how they plan to end what has been a sorry and unnecessary impasse.

"Establishing a vibrant economic hub in Skelmersdale is good news for the whole of West Lancashire. The jobs and facilities created will be taken and enjoyed by residents across the borough which is why I describe Skem as a solution not a problem."

However, he stressed that he wanted to have conversations across the borough.

"I want to meet with traders and retailers in Ormskirk, businesses in Burscough and entrepreneurs and budding entrepreneurs from anywhere in our locality.

"I am interested in growing West Lancashire's economy and we will achieve that by working together and in close association with our private sector."

Raiway station plans 'on track' – claim

PLANS for Skelmersdale to have its first railway station for more than 50 years are "on track", according to Lancashire County Council's cabinet member for highways and transport.

The authority said it is "forging ahead" with plans to connect the town centre to the rail network.

And County Councillor John Fillis, who also represents the Skelmersdale East ward, gave the green light for the next stage which will see the county council work with partners, including Network Rail and Merseytravel, on a more detailed proposal to show how the link could be constructed and any practical design issues overcome.

Cllr. Fillis said: "Our plans to deliver a railway station for Skelmersdale are on track.

"Linking Skelmersdale to the rail network will develop the strategic transport position of the town within West Lancashire and beyond. Our ambition is for the proposed station in the town centre to provide direct access into Liverpool with two trains an hour, along with an hourly service into Manchester.

"The rail link is part of a wider proposal outlined in our highways and transport masterplan for a wholesale reconfiguration of Skelmersdale's transport network and will be fully integrated with the bus network and easily accessible on foot or by cycle.

"Our initial feasibility study shows that connecting Skelmersdale to the rail network should deliver good value for money. When taking into account a dynamic growing economy of business investment, regeneration and housing development, then the return figures just get better.

"I'm committed to delivering the improvements outlined in the transport masterplan as improving connections and widening travel options is vital to extend the opportunities available to local people.

"The county council has already established a £1m fund to begin the work to develop a detailed brief that will comply with rail industry standards. The study is known as a GRIP (Guide to Rail Investment Process) Stage 3 under the rail industry's formal staged process for delivering new projects and could cost between £2.8m and £4m.

"We feel that the best route for funding the rail link and associated improvements would be through a Growth Deal, of the type which has been so successful in other parts of the county. It is estimated that this would be the largest Growth Deal bid Lancashire has put together so far."

Tory chief slams new 'left wing' council leadership

Report by Henry James

THE former leader of West Lancs Council has fired a broadside at the new Labour–controlled administration.

In an e–mail to the Champion, Councillor David Westley, who has been re–elected as leader of the council's Conservative group, wrote: "The council AGM saw the success of a left wing and unreformed socialist coup with the election of a new Labour leader of the council and the appointment of a cabinet stuffed full with trade union activists.

"The Labour group turned out to be something of a wolf in sheep's clothing when they ditched their previous leader Councillor Roger Bell, a moderate and former Lib–Dem member. Any voter who voted for Rosie Cooper MP, another ex–Lib–Dem, and thought her moderate politics were reflected in the council's Labour group will be in for a nasty shock and may feel there has been a breach of the Trades Description Act."

Cllr. Westley repeated his claims that the Tories' vote had been 'squeezed' by

Councillor David Westley

UKIP and Our West Lancashire and pledged that they would hold the new administration to account.

He continued: "The new Labour leader, Councillor Moran has already given a clear indication of his socialist dogma when in his acceptance speech he made reference to 'growing the council'. This followed on from the public statement by Councillor Wynn, finance portfolio holder which lamented the reduction in the number of staff employed by the council brought about by the necessary cost–saving measures of the previous Conservative administration.

"The Conservative vote was squeezed by UKIP, whose parliamentary candidate, after being suspended has since joined the BNP, and Our West Lancashire, less of a political party and more about failed political ambition together with an ill thought–out set of policies more designed to grab a headline than bear serious consideration."

Cllr. Westley added: " The Conservatives will be an effective opposition and will fight tooth and nail to preserve the council's cost–effective frontline services and resolutely resist Labour imposing unnecessary increases in council tax."

In response, new council leader, Councillor Ian Moran, said: "We would like to thank the people of West Lancashire for putting their faith in us and we look forward to growing the economy of the borough, creating better job opportunities and establishing a more outward focused and entrepreneurial council that will develop a range of partnerships and initiatives that will enable us to protect front–line services."

Students' act of kindness helps spruce up restaurant

Report by Henry James

STUDENTS from Midstream West Lancs in Skelmersdale have been sowing the seeds of their generosity by refurbishing the garden area at The Coven restaurant in Wigan as part of their Acts of Kindness project.

The students, who are on Midstream's Pathways to Adulthood programme, were involved in every aspect of the project – from cleaning the area and painting the garden's pergola to weeding, looking after the existing plants and choosing new flowers to bring colour to the garden.

The students also planted herbs and vegetables that can be used in the restaurant, which specialises in vegetarian and vegan food.

The refurbishment is now complete and the garden is ready to be used by restaurant–goers over the summer months.

Sue Healy, owner of The Coven, said: "The students have done a really good job. It looks beautiful and I'm really happy and grateful for all of their hard work."

The students have also taken part in a number of other activities as part of the project, including giving away free plants to passers–by in Ormskirk town centre and coffee mornings and will go on to complete their own acts of kindness.

Pathways teacher, Nicola Dilworth, said: "The students are really enjoying working on the Acts of Kindness project and they've all been so proud to see that their hard work really can make a difference.

Midstream students at The Coven restaurant in Wigan

"Experiences like the garden refurbishment give our students the opportunity to plan and implement each step of a project. It was great to see how it all came together in the end."

Primary schools swimming project launched in towns

AN innovative swimming project has been launched for primary schools in Skelmersdale and Up Holland aiming to improve the culture of swimming in the towns.

The initiative was launched by SHARES Lancashire, a not for profit company set up by the schools in Skelmersdale and Up Holland, after research reported that nationally children are leaving primary school unable to swim just one length of 25 metres.

Tilly Marsden from SHARES Lancashire said: "These findings highlighted the need for a new swimming provision to be in place to ensure children receive the best quality of swimming lessons and therefore enable each child to leave school having completed the national curriculum within the West Lancashire area.

"SHARES created this fantastic new and exciting package which has extended the amount of swimming children take part in, it works in line with the ASA stages and guidelines and aims to challenge each child individually, so they can achieve their full swimming potential with confidence.

"The new SHARES swimming coaches have three decades of experience between them and are not only passionate about progressing children's learning to meet the national curriculum but also to achieve and surpass their potential.

"This will also be supported by the development of after school swimming clubs and the exciting creation of a Skelmersdale and Up Holland swimming team."

Drama group 'taste' success in first micro–grant event

Report by Danielle Thompson

A SKELMERSDALE–based theatre group was the 'winner' at the inaugural meeting of an innovative fundraising venture in West Lancashire.

The borough's new mayor, Councillor Nikki Hennessy and deputy mayor, Councillor Liz Savage were among guests at the event organised by Ormskirk Soup, an initiative inspired by the Detroit Soup movement, with the aim of funding 'micro–grants' for community projects in Lancashire.

Guests are charged £5 to attend, which includes a meal of bread and soup, and representatives of local projects – including charities and arts and educational groups – are invited to address the audience outlining what they want the grant for.

Each 'presenter' has four minutes to share their idea and answer four questions from the audience.

Attendees then vote for the project they want to support and the one with the most votes goes home with the money raised. They then have to report on their project's progress at the next dinner.

The audience at the first event at Ormskirk Civic Hall heard from four groups, Dream–makers Drama Society and the Engine Rooms, both based in Skelmersdale, the West Lancashire Princes's Trust and Lancaster–based Ludus Dance.

And the winning group were Dream–makers, who were awarded £220 which they will use for a production of A Midsummer Night's Dream.

Andy Napoleon Hill, one of the organisers of Ormskirk Soup, said: "Soup is essentially a micro–granting dinner aimed at connecting with local groups and charities, offering them a platform to tell us about themselves and hopefully secure themselves a micro–grant.

"After the presentations there's time to discuss which project you think benefits the community the most over a bowl of soup.

Resources

"Once all the votes are cast and counted we announce who the winner is and they go home with all of the money raised at the door to carry out their project.

"At the dinner, residents and supporters connect, share ideas and community resources.

"It would be great to get as many people behind this as we can, hopefully leading to bigger grants.

"This isn't just a one–off and we're looking to get about six a year booked, giving different community groups a chance to present ideas."

• For more information email soup@wearenapoleon.co.uk, call 01695 363473 or visit their Facebook page, Ormskirk Soup.

£9,000 grant boost for Sporting Challenge

A CHARITY which supports adults with learning difficulties to enjoy a range of sports has been given a grant for more than £9,000.

Sporting Challenge is made up of parents and carers who have been providing sporting activities for around 30 people with learning difficulties in West Lancashire since 2008

The charity has been given a grant offer of £9,180 from the Big Lottery Fund to be spent on bowling, boccia/kurling, aerobics, fitness training, country walks, and 12 sports taster sessions, starting in August.

Every year the Big Lottery Fund gives out millions of pounds from the UK's National Lottery to good causes, including community groups and health, education and environment projects.

It can be troublesome for people with learning difficulties to access sport and exercise activities. Barriers they face include parents or carers being unable to physically take them and stay with them at classes, while they can also experience physical obstacles to participating in mainstream sport and exercise classes.

Members of Sporting Challenge enjoying a day out at Rock and River outdoor pursuits and activity centre in Mawdesley

The charity organise evening and weekend activities including ten–pin bowling, aerobics, swimming, archery, Wii nights, boccia, kurling, and dance sessions.

The classes are a great way for their service users to have fun, make friends and lead an active lifestyle and they also provide some respite care for their families and carers.

Sporting Challenge also provides special workers who can collect participants from where they live and provide much–needed support while they are having fun, before dropping them off back home.

Secretary and trustee, Edward McCarthy, said: "I am delighted with this funding award from the Big Lottery Fund. It is a wonderful opportunity for Sporting Challenge."

David goes continental to achieve Olympic dream

Report by Henry James

A CYCLIST from Skelmersdale, whose dream is to repesent his country at the Commonwealth and Olympic Games, has travelled to Europe to take part in events in Belgium and Holland.

David Reece, from Inglewhite, Birch Green, will be competing in races on the continent for the next two months in a bid to pick up points and hopefully be spotted by a national team.

The 20–year–old has only been cycling competitvely for two years but already has a Category Two Cycling Licence – just two grades below an Elite Licence as held by the sport's top performers such as Sir Bradley Wiggins.

David, who rides for the Liverpool Mercury Dolan team on a bike designed by Ormskirk's Terry Dolan, recently finished second in a competition at Litherland behind a rider from Team Wiggins.

Currently studying for a degree in sports and exercise therapies at West Lancashire College, David reckons the hilly terrain of West Lancashire is ideal for training and he also swims regularly at Nye Bevan Pool in Skelmersdale to build up his stamina.

Another training technique he employs is motorpacing, where he follows directly behind a car to take the drag off the wind.

His brother Lee told the Champion: "Although he has only been cycling competitively for a short time, David has already made a huge jump in progress.

"He trains 14 hours a week clocking up an average 400 miles and he is completely committed to achieving his goal of taking part in the Olympic and Commonwealth games and also the Tour De France.

"He is currently making his way through the ranks to achieve his Elite Racing Licence and is competing in local, regional and national events, as well as training abroad and competing in events overseas to earn those all–important points which are the key to progression in endurance cycling.

"Getting recognised by the top teams is hard to do but already, people are beginning to hear about David and remark about his talent, determination, fitness and will to win."

Care home hosts Dying Matters awareness event

Stocks Hall Nursing & Care Group staff along with speakers and exhibitors at the 'Dying to Talk' Awareness Event

THE Stocks Hall Care & Nursing Group hosted an awareness event at its Skelmersdale care home in support of Dying Matters Awareness Week (May 18 to 24).

Manager, Sue King said: "Stocks Hall is one of the many organisations across the country involved with Dying Matters Awareness Week and we were delighted to support this national initiative once again."

This year's theme was Talk, Plan, Live and attendees were encouraged to have open and honest discussion and make plans for the future.

Guest speaker was Sara Bellringer, a wills and probate solicitor at Skelmersdale–based Scott Rees & Co.

Sue King added: "Death isn't something that we like to talk about, but for an individual or their loved ones facing the end of life, clear and professional advice on how best to make those difficult decisions is invaluable for all concerned.

"Everyone deserves to die 'well', but a 'good' death can only be achieved if others know what we would want. We want people to feel more comfortable discussing their wishes with loved ones so they can decide what is right for them."

There were also a number of exhibitors at thev event, including St Paul's Church, GreenAcres Woodland Burials, Colourful Coffins and Queenscourt Hospice.

And guests were invited to stay and enjoy free refreshments and a chat about life and death.

Sue concluded: "This wasn't a gloomy event, it was an honest and open opportunity to spark interesting conversations, from cakes to coffins."

The Stocks Hall Nursing & Care Group wish to thank everybody who contributed to their event.

Donations from a raffle held on the day have been donated to Queenscourt Hospice, a Southport–based charity that provides end–of–life support for people and their families in Sefton and West Lancashire.

Open day held to mark completion of renovation project

AN Open Day was held at Quarry Bank Community Association in Skelmersdale to give the public a chance to see the completed garden renovations.

The project has seen the renovation of the pond and amphitheatre area, along with secure fencing around the perimeter of the gardens.

A spokesperson for the association said: "We have been fortunate in working with a number of partnerships to bring the gardens back to their former glory, namely Community Restart and their volunteers, Community Payback, part of the national probation service, and also volunteers from the local community. We would also like to thank the contractors Secure Fencing from Kirkby and DM Fencing Skelmersdale."

One major benefit of the renovations is that through the work of Community Restart a community food growing area is being developed adjacent to the garden.

This will give local people the opportunity to grow and eat their own fruit and vegetables.

Some funding has been obtained from NHS Lancashire Care, Dream Makers, Brookes Bros in Skelmersdale and Lancashire County Council Global Renewables in Leyland.

Karen Parker, the project's manager, said: "The garden is looking lovely and as the new plants establish it will become a more green and vibrant area. We hope the local community of Skelmersdale will have many years of pleasure using the site both for recreation and community food growing.

"Without the grant from the Veolia Environmental Trust and the hours put in by our partners the work could not have gone ahead."

Flower power

MEMBERS of the 1st Up Holland Rainbows, Brownies and Guides have been planting seeds in the grounds of St Thomas the Martyr Church as part of a community initiative.

The project, Grow Wild, is aimed at inspiring young people to transform local communities by sowing UK native wild flowers.

Guides district commissioner, Julia Peet Draycott, said: "We can't wait to see the area transformed with some native flowers."

Is your home in need of a makeover? If you want a beautiful new kitchen, a stylish bedroom or a smart home office, then head to Homestyle Factory Kitchens - you'll be spoilt for choice.

Homestyle Factory Kitchens has more than 30 years experience of fitting and installing kitchens, bedrooms and office furniture in Southport and the surrounding area, so you know you'll be getting experience and expertise.

Owner Alan Buxton and his qualified and friendly team have built up an enviable reputation for quality and cost over the years; and they pride themselves on their attention to detail and customer satisfaction.

Forward-thinking Alan and his team embrace new technology and keep up-to-date with modern materials and techniques.

And, by bulk buying manufacturing materials, Homestyle Factory Kitchens can keep costs down and offer you great prices. Each product is made by a time-served cabinet maker, so you know you're getting great quality.

Homestyle Factory Kitchens is open to both trade and retail customers and has ranges on offer to suit all tastes and budgets, so you're bound to find the kitchen, bedroom or home office of your dreams.

Take a look at the brand new website to see the huge range of products and styles available. Each design will be bespoke, and all cabinets are constructed from 18mm edged all round colour co-ordinated textured board with solid backs.

The kitchen is the real heart of the family; it's where all the family come together. So it's important that you choose a space that works for you and your family.

Offering a free design and planning service, Alan and the team can help you create your dream kitchen.

A member of the team will come out to your home and discuss your requirements before your requirements before you head to the factory to choose exactly what you want. Whether you're going for a traditional style or something more contemporary, the team will be able to guide you through every part of the process.

Or maybe it's your bedroom that needs a bit of love. If so, Alan and the team can help you there too.

Offering a range of bedroom suites, you can finally have that relaxing haven you've always wanted. From clean and modern to traditional and elegant, Homestyle Factory Kitchens has something for everyone; as well as some great fitted storage units, wardrobes and dressing tables.

Enterprise scheme benefits from free training programme

Report by Henry James

AN enterprise in Skelmersdale that offers work activity and training for people with learning difficulties and disabilities has benefited from a £5.6m workforce training programme.

Midstream has put more than 20 of its team through specialist qualifications, including level 1 British Sign Language, level 2 diploma in health and social care and assessor practitioner training for learning support assistants.

The free training was secured through the Lancashire Skills Support programme and has been delivered through specialist training provider The Via Partnership.

Lancashire Skills Support has already helped more than 3,300 Lancashire workers to secure free training and skills qualifications.

Midstream has more than 150 clients and offers work activity and training in horticulture, contract gardening, landscaping and environmental conservation, craft, hospitality and catering

It also operates a retail garden centre, gift shop and tea rooms at its Penrose Place premises.

Mark Saxon, operations manager at Midstream, said: "Midstream strives to remove barriers faced by people with additional needs, and the opportunity of accessing funded support from Lancashire Skills Support for our staff to learn British Sign Language is invaluable. This opportunity has enhanced our inclusive support to clients who have additional communication needs."

Rebecca Lynch, of The Via Partnership, added: "The qualifications delivered have developed specific skills of the learners giving them the knowledge and understanding to provide additional support to their clients."

Lancashire Skills Support (LSS), launched in September 2014, now has just over 10 per cent of its 3,817 places remaining and businesses across the county are being urged to act fast if they don't want to miss out on the support.

LSS has been brought together by Lancashire County Council and the Lancashire Enterprise Partnership (LEP) and has been funded by the European Social Fund (ESF).

Training has been completed in areas including team leadership, management, accounting, marketing, sales, health and social care, customer service, engineering, manufacturing, catering and hospitality.

In total LSS will support 3,817 employees aged 19 and over who are working in small or medium–sized businesses and have a workforce of up to 250 employees. It will run until July 2015 with places allocated to businesses on a first–come, first–served basis.

Businesses looking to benefit from the programme can find further information and apply through the website www.lancashireskillssupport.co.uk.

Industrial unit development plan approved with conditions

A RESERVED matters application to build 11 single–storey industrial units at Gorsey Place in Gillibrands has been approved with conditions by West Lancs Council.

Outline planning permission was given in December 2012 to demolish the existing units and build replacement facilities.

The units were demolished in 2013 and the site is now vacant, although the concrete floor slab, road ways and drainage are still in place.

The proposed units would have a basic construction and they would be fitted out to suit the tenants.

This application looked at units 18 to 24 only, which are to the south of the site area.

West Lancs Council's assistant director of planning, John Harrison, wrote in the report for the recent planning meeting: "In terms of potential impact on surrounding land uses the proposed development is considered acceptable."

He also looked at the impact the proposal would have on the surrounding land and how in keeping it was with others nearby and added: "It would not adversely affect surrounding land uses or displace parking or other essential functions. In terms of potential impact on surrounding land uses the proposed development is considered acceptable.

"The proposed development would be in keeping with the surrounding industrial area."

Mr Harrison suggested there should be some pruning of trees but added "this will not be visible from the outside of the site."

The council believe there would be no "adverse impact on any protected or priority species."

Descendant of Waterloo hero visits town

A DESCENDANT of a man who helped the Duke of Wellington to overcome the forces of Napoleon at the Battle of Waterloo has visited Skelmersdale on the eve of the bicentenary commemorations of the historic confrontation.

Prince Blucher, the great, great, great grandson of Field Marshal Gebhard Leberecht von Blücher, was guest speaker at a course held at the Maharishi Golden Dome in Woodley Park Road.

Although a committed supporter of peace between nations and a believer in the part that transcendental meditation can play in this, Prince Blucher will represent his family at the forthcoming 200th anniversary of Waterloo to be held in Belgium in this month.

He took up transcendental meditation in 1960 when he first met Maharishi Mahesh Yogi who derived the technique from the ancient Vedic tradition.

A former successful businessman, now retired, Prince Blucher, talked about how Vedic wisdom underlies all philosophies and all religions and related this to people's experiences on the course. He also joined in group meditations with participants.

He said: "The Golden Dome in Skelmersdale is a great achievement. Everything in the community is done on time and is very much regulated."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Manager Paul Kane feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Crosby, Litherland, Aintree, Maghull, Walton, Anfield, Netherton, Bootle, Formby, Ormskirk and Skelmersdale areas & Paul is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Paul a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 18 and he'll be happy to help!

Volunteers wanted for breast screening focus group session

Report by Henry James

THE NHS in West Lancashire is seeking female volunteers aged 47 and over from the Tanhouse or Digmoor areas of Skelmersdale to attend an informal focus group about breast screening on Thursday, June 11 from 4 to 5.30pm at Birleywood Health Centre.

The focus group will aim to understand women's feelings about and knowledge of breast screening, whether they have or have not been screened.

The discussion will be informal and confidential with female NHS members of staff and will last approximately one–and–a–half hours. Refreshments will be provided.

Carol McCabrey of NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG), said: "Through this focus group we are hoping to understand why some women do not attend their breast screening appointment and others do.

"The discussion will be very informal and will help us make improvements in terms of educating our local communities about why screening is so important."

Women aged 50 to 70 years are invited for breast screening every three years.

Breast screening is carried out at special clinics or mobile breast screening units locally in West Lancashire. The procedure is carried out by female members of staff who take mammograms using an x–ray machine.

Volunteers are being asked to confirm in advance if they would like to come along to the focus group.

If you'd like to attend email myview@westlancashireccg.nhs.uk or alternatively call Meg Pugh on 07795 952837.

This focus group ties in with local NHS priorities around prevention and cancer.

Appeal for information after industrial estate burglary

POLICE are appealing for information following a burglary at a business premises on an industrial estate in Skelmersdale.

The incident occurred between 4pm on Sunday, May 24 and 11am on Monday, May 25 when thieves forced entry into Exsel CIC on Gladden Place and stole a laptop, a tablet computer and numerous boxes containing sewing equipment.

PC Debbie Walker said: "I would appeal to anyone who saw someone acting suspiciously in the area during the time of the burglary, or who has any information that could assist with our enquiries, to contact us."

Glenburn closure decision is a kick in teeth for Skelmersdale

IN response to your front page story 'Final Bell Tolls for Glenburn!' (Champion, May 20) this unforgiveable decision by Lancashire County Council has caused great anger among parents, pupils and our local community.

Closing this school was the easy option and Lancashire County Council has ducked from a complete review of secondary education in Skelmersdale.

Once again Skelmersdale has been let down when what we really needed was a new school with new facilities.

At present there's a lot of work going on to bring investment into the town so this decision is a kick in the teeth for all of us who want to see regeneration in Skelmersdale.

We fail to see how closing our town–centre high school will attract more people to live in Skelmersdale and we fail to see how this closure will attract more business investment into the town.

We share parents' concerns over this appalling decision and they are rightly angered at how this closure has been handled. In reaching their decision Lancashire County Council has completely ignored the views of parents, pupils and our local community.

From our point of view the responsibility for closure of Glenburn Sports College rests with Lancashire County Council and Ofsted, both of whom have failed miserably in their duty to ensure this school remained open and improved its performance.

Councillors Neil Furey and Jenny Patterson, Skelmersdale North Ward

Student flats plan will mean more misery for local residents

I WRITE with regards to the proposal to demolish the Fat Olive restaurant and replace it with a four–storey block for students.

This application by the McComb Property Company was first submitted in October 2014 but was withdrawn.

They have now re–applied for planning permission in May 2015.

I am vehemently opposed to this project on the grounds of the misery it will cause for the residents of Beaconsfield Court which is situated next to the Fat Olive restaurant.

We already suffer from noisy students passing our premises at 2am following their drinking sessions in the local pubs.

This new block of flats (if allowed) would mean that we will be surrounded by student property.

I am led to believe that there is a formula governing the new build of student flats in ratio to private property in the same area. This particular area of town is so small that I am sure this further development would contravene such a formula.

Finally, it's about time someone made a stance against the property speculators that are blighting our town. They are not interested in the older generation and are only looking at the huge profits they are generating from these properties.

W. A. Smith,
site director, Beaconsfield Court

Cast–offs are not the answer to ending rail nightmare for commuters

I SUPPORT Tony Holland's comments (Letters, May 27) in relation to Northern Rail.

Between 2004 and 2008 I travelled daily from Appley Bridge to Manchester Airport and complained loud and long about the trains on this journey.

Always there were only two coaches in a morning which were full to cattle truck level, as Tony says, by the time they reached Appley Bridge and we were forced to stand on a dirty and often cold train for the hour–long journey.

On many occasions I contacted Rosie Cooper who, bless her, always assured me that things were getting better and we would have more rolling stock which would result in a fast solution to the problem.

Unfortunately she was incorrect and the problem continues.

I understand they did have a few carriages which were not fit for decent lines like Trans Pennine and deemed suitable for Northern Rail passengers.

Can Rosie Cooper now tell us what the master plan is in getting the next generation of rolling stock cast–offs from our southern 'betters.'

Chance to get it off your chest...

We want to hear your views

IF you've got a point of view about a topic of local or national interest and want to 'get it off your chest', we want to hear from you.

Letters to the editor should be concise, preferably no more than 350 words long, and should include the name, address and a contact telephone number, or email address, of the sender for the purpose of clarification, although not necessarily for publication.

Submissions, marked 'Letters to the editor', can be posted or handed in to Champion Newspapers, Clare House, 166 Lord Street, Southport PR9 0QA or sent via email to editorial@champnews.com.

Correspondents should also note that the editor reserves the right to edit all items submitted for favour of publication.

One rule for dogs, another for horses?

I'VE read many letters about dog mess and cycles on the pavements, even written a few myself, but this made me wonder if anyone cares anymore.

One evening last week two mounted police women rode past our house and continued along Southport Road, the next day there were several heaps of horse dung on the pavement. These must have been there when the children and parents were going to school.

I know that the rider cannot tell when a horse does its business but being trained riders and police I thought they would have had the horse sense to ride in the road.

I bet if they had seen a dog walker leaving mess on the pavement they wouldn't hesitate to issue a fine.

Seven years on from meetings and Westhead's traffic problems continue

I READ with interest a local party flyer where the candidate, together with Councillor Fillis, were asked to sort out high levels of traffic through Westhead, particularly by the school.

I attended meetings in 2008 by a group calling themselves Protect Rural Ormskirk (Pro) who were against the Ormskirk bypass and said that the traffic situation in Ormskirk can be solved by an adjustment to the traffic light sequences.

The residents of Westhead who attended the Pro meeting were more worried about a drop in house prices should the bypass go ahead.

That was in 2008 it is now 2015 and traffic will only get worse.

Perhaps the Pro and the residents of Westhead should meet again and ask the transport cabinet member for Lancashire, Cllr. Fillis, who has had two highways masterplan consultion drafts printed. I am sure he has the solution, with the help of Pro.

Help your Local Charity by Donating Mobility Equipment

Peter Cousins MBE, Chairman of Brighter Future Workshop said, "I am concerned about the amount of mobility equipment that is being thrown away after use instead of being recycled. Waiting lists for equipment continues to grow; if more equipment was recycled it could help drastically to cut these lists."

Brighter Future Mobility a local multi award winning charity who recycle mobility equipment are making an appeal to people who have received white goods from their doctor or chemist e.g. Shower Chairs, Stools, Perching Stools, Over Bed Tables and Toilet Frames etc., and any other equipment e.g. Wheelchairs, Mobility Scooters, Walking Aids etc. to donate them to us when they are no longer needed.

For further information call Brighter Future Mobility on 01695 724362 or 01695 579971

Countless 1000's of pieces of mobility equipment are needlessly thrown out after use by the local people of West Lancs and end up in land fill sites. This is shameful when approximately 70% of this equipment could be recycled and re-used by other local people, some who have waited months for the mobility equipment and aids they need.

You can drop off donations at 20 Greenhey Place, Skelmersdale WN8 9SA or at Brighter Future Mobility Shop on Aldi/ Mc Donald's car park in Ormskirk. Collection of the equipment can also be arranged by calling the numbers above.

Free, fun park events in store

A NUMBER of free, fun events are being staged in West Lancashire's parks during June.

Coronation Park, Ormskirk hosts the 'Eat to the Beat' music and food extravaganza on Sunday, June 7 from noon to 4pm, featuring local bands and community groups performing and providing activities for the public to take part in.

Talented student bands and musicians from the Sound Affects Studios' School Of Rock will provide music, along with Erin Howard, Andy Seddon and Flashmob.

There will also be dance workshops, a climbing wall, Gruffalo Trail, and a chance to play tennis and show off your football skills.

'Eat to the Beat' also incorporates The Big Lunch, hosted by staff from the Halifax Bank and food treats will include a barbecue, sandwiches, cakes, sweets, candy floss and ice creams.

On Saturday, June 13 visitors to Beacon Country Park can join the council 's rangers on the 'Useful and Edible Plants' walk, starting at 10am, a gentle, three–mile stroll on which local experts will reveal some of the fascinating uses for different plants found growing all around us. It's free to attend but booking is essential on 01695 622794 or by email to beacon.park@westlancs.gov.uk.

Meanwhile, volunteers can help the rangers tackle the problem of Himalayan Balsam, a plant that is choking out our native flora, at their 'Balsam Bashing' event on Sunday, June 14. Volunteers should meet at the lay–by opposite Fairy Glen on the A5209 at Appley Bridge, at 10am.

And Richmond Park in Burscough is hosting a fun day on Sunday, June 28 between 11am and 4pm. This is supported by the Friends of Richmond Park and will feature a funfair, bouncy castle and dog show, as well as 'have a go' sessions at tennis and bowling and a five–a–side football competition.

Public urged to take part in crime survey

RESIDENTS and local businesses in West Lancashire are being enouraged to take part in the biggest rural crime survey held in the region.

Lancashire's police and crime commissioner, Clive Grunshaw, is calling on members of the public in the borough and owners of businesses based here to contribute to the National Rural Crime Network (NRCN) surve.

Respondents are invited to give their views on policing in their community and the impact that crime and anti–social behaviour has on them and their neighbours, to ultimately help shape the future of crime prevention and rural policing.

The survey has now opened and will run until Wednesday, June 24.

Clive Grunshaw

Commissioner Clive Grunshaw said: "This is a great opportunity for residents of rural areas of the county to raise concerns about crime in their local area and to provide feedback on local policing.

"The more we know about the issues concerning our rural communities the better we can address them in the future.

"If you live in a rural part of Lancashire I would urge you to take part in the survey to ensure that the outcomes reflect your views."

The survey, which is taking place with support from the Home Office, aims to build a body of information to improve national awareness of crime in rural areas as well as provide a clearer picture of attitudes towards crime to help inform government and local policy.

To take part go to www.nationalruralcrimenetwork.net/survey.

Couples wanted for reality TV show

COUPLES from across West Lancashire are being invited to sign up for the next series of a reality TV show where entrants compete to show that they are the best dinner hosts in their own homes.

Channel 4's 'Couples Come Dine With' features three couples who each take turns to cook and host a dinner party for the others with the winning pair receiving a £1,000 cash prize.

A spokesman for the programme's makers, ITV Plc, said: "We are currently looking for some fantastic couples that are in a relationship to take part in the show and we'd love to here from couples in West Lancashire. Please state in your email what area you are applying for and who you are applying with along with your contact telephone numbers."

County's new chair steps up

THE new chairman of Lancashire County Council has commenced her year in office, making the authority one of the first in the country to be headed up by three women.

County Councillor Margaret Brindle, who represents the Burnley Rural division, was appointed at the annual meeting of the full council and joins leader, Councillor Jennifer Mein, and chief executive, Jo Turton, in the most senior roles at the council.

A county councillor since 2009, Ms Brindle steps up to the chair after serving as vice–chairman to County Councillor Kevin Ellard for the past year.

She was born in Enfield, North London and spent time in care before moving to Burnley at age 10. After leaving the high school she worked in a building society, eventually becoming a cashier in a central London branch during the 1960s.

Council, County Councillor Margaret Brindle

She returned to Lancashire and attended Burnley College before going on to work for the DHSS and the state pension section.

In addition to the civil service, she also worked alongside her husband William in his design and print company, creating artwork for the packaging industry.

For the last 14 years of her working life, Margaret was a housing benefit officer for Burnley Borough Council, gaining an Institute of Revenues, Ratings and Valuation Technician qualification while in this post.

Commenting on her new role she said: "I want to help people, particularly older people and young people who are coming out of care. I know from experience that they have a lot to face and I hope to increase awareness of this during my year as chairman.

"Over the past year I've worked alongside Kevin Ellard, who was an excellent chairman. On behalf of Lancashire I'd like to thank him for his work."

The new vice–chairman is County Councillor Janice Hanson who has been a member of the council since 2005.

Special charter mark award for 'inclusive' local hospital trust

Report by Danielle Thompson

THE Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust has been recognised for its 'inclusive' attitude to members of the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex (LGBTI) community.

The trust was awarded the Navajo charter mark for their treatment of LGBTI patients

Audrey Cushion, deputy director of human resources and Lin Douglas, equalities lead, received the award at the annual Merseyside and Cheshire LGBTI partnership ceremony in Liverpool.

The Navajo movement, started in Lancashire in1999, tackles inequality and prejudice, and recognises that social well–being and acceptance in society of lesbian, gay and bisexual people has a positive impact on their health. More recently the scheme has been extended to include transgender people too.

Tolerance

The name Navajo was chosen in tribute to the traditions of tolerance, non–discrimination and goodwill that historically formed a central part of the North American Navajo Nation's belief system.

Audrey Cushion said: "The charter mark assessment takes into account an organisation's practices and policies, how it trains and recruits, and how it engages with staff. We are very proud to be one of the 11 organisations in Merseyside and Cheshire to be awarded it."

Lin Douglas added: "I am delighted we have achieved this award. We have taken positive steps in addressing these issues and the charter mark will support employees and users of our services who identify as LGBTI."

Lucy takes on 150–mile charity cycle challenge

Report by Ollie Cowan

CHAMPION sales executive Lucy Chalmers is hoping to become a charity champion as well by taking on a gruelling 150–mile round trip to help buy a caravan!

The 25–year–old will join more than 100 other girl cyclists on a charity ride between Gosport and Newhaven on June 19 to raise vital funds for the Oakley Waterman Caravan Foundation.

The Oakley Waterman Caravan Foundation was started by Dave and Lorraine Waterman from Gosport shortly before their six–year–old son Oakley died of a rare form of cancer called Rhabdomyosarcoma in 2005.

It was while the family were enjoying precious time together staying in a caravan at Church Farm Holiday Village at Pagham near Chichester that the charity was born.

Oakley wished they could purchase a caravan at Church Farm, which he loved so much, so it could also be used by other children, who are suffering with similar life threatening illnesses.

"With the help of some friends a caravan was purchased at the site in 2005 and in 2007 a second caravan was purchased at another site overlooking the sea at Devon Cliffs near Exeter.

Said Lucy: "I'm really looking forward to the challenge and I can't wait to raise as much as possible for the foundation – it's going to be tough but I've been training for weeks!

"It's not the easiest thing in the world – me on a bike!

"But it's all for a really worthy cause. If anyone would like to donate, any pennies are appreciated on my justgiving page."

• To sponsor Lucy and donate to the cause visit www.justgiving.com/lucy–chalmers.

Edge Hill study uses phones to monitor alcohol consumption

A STUDY by academics at Edge Hill University has used smartphones to try and reveal the reasons why alcohol consumption is significantly under–reported.

In the newly–published paper for Alcohol Research UK, it has been suggested that asking people to recall how much alcohol they have consumed in the previous day or week leads to reporting inaccuracies.

These underestimations may not just be a result of failing to include alcohol consumed during holidays and special events, but might actually be attributed to the setting and type of drinks consumed.

The research in online journal PLOS One suggests that people tend to have more difficulty recalling how much alcohol they consumed in pubs and bars, compared with drinking at home.

Younger people also seem to have particular difficulty in remembering their consumption of beer and cider accurately, compared to other alcoholic drinks like wine and spirits.

Participants used a smartphone app to record their alcohol consumption in real time. They were later asked to recall how much they thought they had drunk during the preceding day or week. The real–time results were consistently higher than the amount participants reported drinking when they were asked at a later time.

Dr Rebecca Monk from Edge Hill, said: "Previous research suggests that self–reported alcohol consumption is up to 40% lower than the amount of alcohol actually sold. Using Smartphone technology to record drinking in real–time we found that people appear to have great difficulty in accurately recalling what they consumed after the event.

"Overall, our findings suggest that under–reporting is not solely a consequence of memory impairments associated with alcohol consumption."

Dr James Nicholls, of Alcohol Research UK, added: "This research suggests we need to develop more sophisticated ways of measuring alcohol consumption than are currently used. Mobile technologies are not perfect, but they can help us develop a more accurate picture of how people drink on different occasions. Such information would make a significant contribution to our understanding of drinking patterns across society."

Emma Garrity loves Slimming World because…

I was unhappy with how I felt and had tried losing weight many times before but had never stuck to any diet as so many foods were banned and I'd end up cheating.

Mum of 2 Emma says "My friend had joined Slimming World and talked me into going along with her.

"At first I wasn't sure going to a group was for me! I was wrong - everyone was so welcoming and all their help has been fantastic.

"Now I love Slimming World - I can fill up on as many 'free foods' as I want and they are everyday foods like lean meat, eggs, fresh fruit & veg, rice and pasta and potatoes! Knowing you don't need to ever feel hungry, miss out on treats like chocolate and still be able to go out and have a few drinks puts you in control and makes eating guilt free.

"I am now 2&1/2st lighter! There were times that were not so as easy - Christmas and my girly holiday, but the understanding, support and foodie ideas I got from group kept me on Track. I feel so much more confident & happy now and love going to buy new clothes after dropping to a size 10/12. I'm so glad I walked through those doors!"

Students' work to showcase at city theatre

AN exhibition and showcase of student work from Edge Hill University's faculty of arts and sciences, entitled Exclaim!, will take over Liverpool's Everyman Theatre on Tuesday, June 9.

At this biennial event, guests will have the chance to view the most exciting work students have produced during their time on the creative writing, music, dance, film and television, animation, drama, advertising and computing degree programmes.

Drama professor, David Peimer, the univeristy's head of performing arts and director of Exclaim!, said: "We are proud of our students and staff in the faculty of arts and science, the creative home of the show and we want to share their amazing energy and talent with the audience in Liverpool."

The show will feature a wide range of work, including a performance from year three dance students created by renowned choreographer Gary Clarke.

The show will also include aerial performance and a solo performance from recent dance alumnus Malachi Simmons who now works professionally in the dance industry. There will be readings of work from creative writing students, drama performances plus student produced films, animation, music and singing.

Producer, Carol Poole, added: "Exclaim! 2015 celebrates Edge Hill in Liverpool, the first home of the university, and our long–standing links with the city. It also celebrates new partnerships with Tate Liverpool, the Liverpool Culture Company, Liverpool Sound City and LA Productions."

Arts students sow seeds of creativity

ART and design students at West Lancashire College are busy preparing an exhibition of their work to be held next week.

The theme for this year's show, 'Plant a Seed, Grow your Mind', was the idea of second–year art student Blaze Fraser .

The students' work can be viewed at the West Lancashire College Campus, College Way, Skelmersdale (next to Asda) starting with an evening view on Wednesday, June 10 from 6 to 8pm, open to all. The show is also open from 10am to 4pm on Thursday and Friday, June 11 and 12 and Monday, June 15.

Department leader Gary Owens said: "The show is a great opportunity to see the quality work that students have made and they are very excited about the positive impact their work will have in the local community. It's free and we'd love to welcome as many people as possible."

Entries invited for West Lancs Open Exhibition

TALENTED artists are being invited to share their work with a larger audience by taking part in the popular West Lancashire Open Exhibition 2015.

Amateur and professionals alike have a chance to exhibit at the event at the Chapel Gallery in Ormskirk – and take home some of the £1,500 combined prize money on offer!

Entry forms can be collected from the gallery in St Helens Road during opening hours, 10am to 4.30pm, Tuesday to Saturday or downloaded from the website www.chapelgallery.org.uk.

If selected, work will be exhibited at the gallery from July 11 to September 9.

Applicants must be 18 years old or over and can submit two original pieces of artwork to be viewed by the selection panel. All media entered will be considered, from drawing, painting, printmaking and three–dimensional work to photography, sculpture and textiles.

The first prize is £800, with a second prize of £400 and £200 for third place. Commendations are also awarded along with the prestigious Peoples' Prize voted by visitors to the gallery.

Each entrant can submit two original pieces of artwork. The submission days for handing in work are Friday and Saturday June 26 and 27 from 10am to 4.30pm.

Large–scale two–dimensional and three–dimensional works must be submitted by photograph only. The gallery should be in receipt of these submissions by Friday, June 26. They should also include a completed entry form and a first class stamp.

A landscape made by man is not always a bad thing

INCREASINGLY it is being borne upon me just what a man–made environment I am living in.

Of course I've always known that, but somehow, perhaps due to an increasing awareness fuelled by the fight to save the green belt, has brought it more sharply into focus.

Oddly enough, it wasn't any recent developments that sparked these thoughts.

On the bus from Maghull to Southport along Liverpool Road North, idly looking out of the window, I realised that a whole stretch of housing in Maghull must have been built as 'ribbon development' in the mid to late '30s.

And that had you travelled down this same road before then there would have been nothing to spoil the view of farm fields (and the Leeds and Liverpool canal).

I know that to many people that was a long time ago – but my second thought was that behind those houses on both sides of the main Southport road, there now lies nothing but hundreds of homes, complete with roads that never existed before.

And I can remember when, as a young journalist, I attended meetings of the then Maghull Parish Council, members were discussing the desirability or otherwise of recommending planning permission for just such development, along with 'infill' single house building here and there.

Now we are talking about vast new housing estates covering valuable grade 'A' farm land in Maghull and Lydiate.

And only a few years ago I naively remarked to a local councillor that we in Maghull had little to fear from large–scale development, because Maghull was already 'full'.

Shows how perspicacious I am doesn't it. Mind you, the councillor I was talking to agreed.

This man–made thing can work the other way too.

If, instead of heading for Southport (or Ormskirk) from my Maghull base, you start off down Sefton Lane towards Crosby or Litherland, you will see woodlands on either side of this busy road.

Now back in the '30s again this would not have been the case. The land there was little but low–lying scrubland which regularly flooded.

And here, the 'culprit', if you can use that word about the founder of a publicly accessible nature area, was man.

Again too, it was the result of what is now an activity which can arouse bitter controversy – landfill.

I think well managed landfill can be a very useful activity, and a darned sight cheaper (apart from the fines of course) than mass recycling using massive diesel powered lorries in the process of delivering our rubbish to a somewhat questionable future.

In this case we have woodland that didn't exist previously. In the case of somewhere on the Wirral side of the Mersey (just a little upstream from Port Sunlight) we have a modern housing development on previously abandoned and decaying docks. Note, not high grade farm land.

So it seems modern ideas can take with one hand but give with the other. I'm not sure the two altogether balance out. Actually I'm pretty sure they don't.

But should you ever drive to or through Maghull, take a gander at what you can see on Liverpool Road North and Sefton Lane and make up your own mind.

Just Perfect...

Care home staff join Dementia Friends

STAFF at a residential care home in Ormskirk have taken part in an information session to become Dementia Friends.

The six employees of Abbey Wood Lodge in County Road attended a free one–hour session run by local Dementia Friends Champion Joe Sherville.

The Dementia Friends initiative was launched in February by national charity the Alzheimer's Society to help members of the public understand what it might be like to live with dementia and turn that understanding into action.

Speaking about the Abbey Wood Lodge session Joe Sherville said: "It was fantastic and the feedback from participants was really positive. It gives me such satisfaction to speak to people about dementia and how it affects people's every day lives."

Police chiefs pay tribute to role of volunteers

Report by Henry James

A WEEK of activities have been organised by Lancashire Police to mark National Volunteers' Week (June 1 to 7).

The annual event celebrates the contribution made by millions of volunteers across the UK, showcasing the different roles on offer and featuring taster sessions, team challenges, volunteer recruitment campaigns and awards ceremonies.

Through Citizen in Policing, Lancashire Police currently has more than 300 volunteers working either in the local community, in the stations or at headquarters.

Volunteering roles range from providing mentoring support to vulnerable individuals and families, to community road watch schemes, health and wellbeing administrators, viewing CCTV footage, supporting police at community events and getting involved with specific departments such as CSI or Early Action.

Assistant chief constable, Mark Bates, said: "Volunteers are a vital and integral part of our organisation. Not only do we have the special constables and cadets but our volunteers provide their specialist skills in areas such as the elderly and vulnerable.

"The benefits to us using volunteers are three–fold. We can build and increase capacity and resilience through volunteers, build volunteering links within specialist departments and the use of specialist volunteers and add value to the communities."

And the county's police and crime commissioner, Clive Grunshaw, added: "Volunteers are an absolutely vital part of Lancashire Police – they help make the constabulary the outstanding force it is.

"One of my key priorities as police and crime commissioner is to defend frontline policing and volunteers help us achieve this by working alongside officers and police staff.

"I would like to personally thank all our volunteers for the effort, dedication and time they offer to Lancashire Police. The role they play is continuing to grow in importance across Lancashire and their efforts will continue to be valued."

During the week, Lancashire Police will be highlighting the work the volunteers do, as well as organising three thank–you events for existing volunteers today (Wednesday, June 3) in Garstang, Preston and Blackburn.

Lancashire Constabulary are also holding two recruitment events for Specials on Monday, June 8 from 7 to 8pm at the Coppice Theatre in Accrington and on Tuesday, June 9 from 7 to 8pm at at Blackpool & The Fylde College.

Springfield Court residents are treated to a performance by the Singing Our Socks Off choir Code NA

Choir's care home concert

CARE home residents enjoyed a visit with a difference when members of a popular community choir popped in to give a special peformance.

The Liverpool–based Sing Our Socks off group, which includes singers of all ages and experience, entertained residents of the Springfield Court Nursing Home in Springfield Road, Aughton, performing a variety of numbers, from show tunes to modern pop and songs from around the world.

School gymnasts book final spot

SPORTY youngsters from a Skelmersdale school have clinched their place in the finals of a prestigious county–wide event.

Young gymnasts from Woodland Community Primary School in Heathgate will compete in the SPAR Lancashire School Games at Stanley Park, Blackpool on June 30 after defeating six other schools to represent West Lancs .

The team excelled in body management, floor and vault routines to secure top spot and there was a stand–out solo performance by Daniela Putnina who took the individual silver medal.

History group stages special event in memory of Mona

A SPECIAL day of remembrance event is to be staged in honour of a respected local historian who passed away last year.

The Local History Federation Lancashire will hold the Remembering Mona day school at Burscough Wharf Arts Centre, Liverpool Road North on Saturday, June 27.

Dr Mona Duggan was a well–respected teacher, lecturer, local historian and author from Haskayne who passed away in January 2014.

The event will run from 9.30am to 4.15pm and will feature talks on subjects including Mona Duggan's work and Lathom's First World War horses.

Cost is £13 (including buffet lunch) or £8 (day school only). To reserve a place call 01772 865347 or email zoe.lawson@talktalk.net.

Amy plays an ace for children's charity

AN Ormskirk mum played an ace for charity when she hosted a fundraising event as part of a national inititiatve.

Amy Ainscough held a coffee morning at her home for 30 local mums and their toddlers as part of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children charity's Really Big Board Game Days project which ran throughout May.

The idea behind the promotion was for families and friends to get together to take part in board games with a suggested donation of £5 per person going to the NSPCC.

Amy's event, complete with cakes, sandwiches and hot and cold drink, raised more than £200 for the children's charity.

She said: "There were more families who wanted to come but unfortunately chicken pox and a tummy bug were going around.

"For the adults, there was Monopoly, Connect 4, Operation, Life, Risk, and Battleships, and we had Guess Who, Candy Land, dominoes and Chutes and Ladders for the kids, plus a life–size plastic chess set!

"It was brilliant to be able to raise awareness of the vital work that the NSPCC does."

Pupils make their mark in Biathlon

FIVE sporty pupils of a West Lancs school made their mark when they represented the North West in the British School's Biathlon Championships held at the Olympic Park in London.

The two–part challenge saw the youngsters, from Rufford CE Primary School, compete in a 50–metre swim and an 800–metre run.

Ella Falkingham ranked first in the under–10 girls category for the North West with a swim time of 37.6 seconds and a run time of 3 minutes 29 seconds, while Olivia Borland ranked second in the under–11 girls section with a swim time of 35.4 seconds and a run time of 3 minutes 16 seconds.

Meanwhile, three boys who competed in the under–12 boys category also claimed ranking positions .

William Whittingham came second with a swim time of 32 seconds and a run time of 2 min 56 seconds; Edward Whittingham was third (32 seconds & 2m 56) and Luke Falkingham came fourth (35 seconds & 3m 4).

Teacher and PE co–ordinator Samantha Shirley told the Champion: "All of the children performed excellently."

Memories of Wales in the 80s wanted

IF you lived in Wales during the 1980s a film–making company would like to hear from you.

Documentary makers Testimony Films are currently working on a new series for BBC Cymru Wales about life in the country during the 1980s and are keen to contact people in West Lancashire who lived there during that decade.

Pete Vance from Testimony Films said: "From the effects of the miners' strike and vast unemployment to changes in gender roles, popular culture and the rise of tourism, it was a decade of great upheaval for Welsh people and residents throughout the country."

If you or someone you know would like to share their memories with Testimony Films, contact Pete Vance on 0117 925 8589, email pete.vance@testimonyfilms.com, or write to 12 Great George Street, Bristol, BS1 5RH.

Youngsters 'hop to it'...

MEMBERS of uniformed organisations at a local church 'hopped to it' to raise funds for a worthy cause.

Guide, Brownie, Rainbow, Scout, Cubs and Beaver groups at Christ Church, Aughton held their own sponsored 'Hops for Your Heart' event to raise money for a defibrillator at their Long Lane base.

A spokeswoman for Ormskirk & Skelmersdale Girlguiding division said: "At first we aimed to raise funds for a defibrillator to be kept within the Scout and Guide HQ but we decided to aim for a machine to be housed externally. It now means that a defibrillator is available for the community 24/7 should one be required."

OVER 40% OF LUXURY VILLAGE APARTMENTS ALREADY SNAPPED UP

Ainscough Mill

Mill Lane,
Burscough, L40 5SP

2 bedroom apartments
from £83,995

A development of luxury apartments in a popular Lancashire village has exceeded all expectations – with over one in three sold within just three months!

Ainscough Mill, in Burscough is a highly desirable collection of contemporary apartments in the village's historic flour mill.

The renovation of the iconic building, set on the banks of the Leeds and Liverpool Canal, has been completed by Persimmon Homes, creating stunning modern living spaces whilst retaining period features and unique charm.

Diane Finch, sales and marketing director of Persimmon Homes Lancashire, said: "Because of the mill's local significance we expected a lot of interest in the properties when we opened the show apartment in February.

"However, even we have been surprised by the level of demand for the 56 apartments, with 22 homes already snapped up.

"Everyone who visits the gorgeous show apartment is impressed with the combination of modern lifestyle and architectural heritage, so we would advise anyone thinking of making the move to hurry to be sure they don't miss out!"

Priced from £83,995, the two bedroom homes offer open plan living, en suite master bedrooms and parking.

Burscough village lies north of Ormskirk and south of Rufford, on the A59, and offers excellent transport links to Manchester, Liverpool and Preston.

Diane added: "Now is a great time to move and our sales advisors are on hand to help people through the whole process and give advice on schemes such as the Government-backed Help to Buy, Home Change and Part-exchange*."

Society to present Piano Festival to mark Midsummer

Report by Henry James

DOUGLAS Music, Parbold is presenting a Piano Festival of concerts and film themed around pianists and piano music on the weekend of Saturday and Sunday 20 and June 21 to mark the Midsummer.

The event is supported by Lancashire County Council and is an extension of Douglas Music's 2014–15 Live Music at the weekend concerts which have been sell–outs across the season.

Three international pianists will be appearing in Parbold Village Hall for the very first time.

Argentinian pianist Nelson Goerner, praised for his meticulous and marvellous musicianship, will be flying in from Switzerland.

On Saturday, June 20 at 7.45 pm, Nelson will play some of the most loved, accessible and exciting works for piano, including two of Frederic Chopin's Ballades and some of Claude Debussy's evocative musical pictures.

On Midsummer Eve, Sunday, June 21 at 7.45 pm, the Piano Festival will conclude with the glamorous, Parisian partnership of Ami and Pascal Rogé, praised for their "beautiful, seductive, consummate playing" Télérama 2013.

For several years, Pascal, with his partner in life and in music Ami Rogé, has travelled the world playing recitals for four–hands.

They will perform an exhilarating, evocative programme. Pascal Rogé is one of the great interpreters of French piano music – his name is simply synonymous with the best playing of French repertoire in the world today.

In the first part of the evening he will play works by Eric Satie and Maurice Ravel that conjure that relaxed sophistication of French music, made familiar by film–makers.

In the second half, Ami and Pascal will perform works originally written for 'four hands': Schubert's Fantasie – one of his greatest and most original compositions; Brahms's Hungarian Dances and Dvorak's Slavonic Dances which brought their composers fame.

In addition on both Saturday and Sunday there are matinée events.

On Saturday afternoon at 3pm, the three outstanding and award–winning soloists of The Pomegranate Piano Trio, with an international reputation for very fine performances, will be playing a well–loved piece by Beethoven, written shortly after his Sixth symphony and featuring melodies from his Second.

Ami and Pascal Rogé Code NA

They will also play Rachmaninov's homage to his mentor, Tchaikovsky (Elegiaque) and Schubert's famous and tuneful Trio that has featured in films, including Stanley Kubrick's Barry Lyndon and Tony Scott's Crimson Tide. This is a "Pay what you will on the door concert" but reservations are required.

On Sunday afternoon at 2.30 p.m. there will be a screening of The Pianist, the multi–award winning film. It tells the true story of pianist, Wladyslaw Szpilman, played by Academy Award Winner, Adrien Brody. Reservation required.

The weekend Festival will open with a celebratory Young Musicians Showcase concert on Friday, June 19 at 7.45p.m.

Following 2014's inaugural concert, Douglas Music has offered eight young musicians – singers, instrumental soloists, pianists from across the North West of England – the opportunity to perform in a professional and public concert setting. The invitation has attracted young musical talent from across the North West – from Warrington and Wigan to Preston and Liverpool to Manchester. Details of the performers will follow in a separate release.

Show aiming to give audiences time of life

A SHOW at Southport Theatre is aiming to give audiences the time of their life.

AN Evening of Dirty Dancing: The Tribute Show is returning to the Southport Theatre for a second year running on Friday, June 12 and this time it will feature performers from Chris Wright's School of Dance and Drama in Southport.

Embarking on it's 5th Anniversary tour, the show is a fully choreographed, highly interactive celebration of the music from the iconic movie.

Musical theatre stalwart Julian Essex–Spurrier will lead the production having played numerous iconic leading roles including Tony Manero in Saturday Night Fever, Rocky in The Rocky Horror Picture Show, Riff in West Side Story and Rusty in Starlight Express.

He's joined by Aimie Atkinson who was the winner of the BBC Radio 2 Voice of Musical Theatre and returns to the production for a third season having recently played the leading role of Penny in Carnaby Street The Musical and Chloe in the Take That musical, Never Forget.

An Evening of Dirty Dancing: The Tribute Show is directed by Paul Spicer with choreography by Leanne Harwood and pays homage to the greatest movie soundtrack of all time.

The night will include the songs: Big Girls Don't Cry, Hey Baby, Wipeout, Do You Love Me, Hungry Eyes and the Oscar–winning (I've Had) The Time of My Life.

Paul Spicer said: "We're thrilled the students can join us for this our second visit to Southport.

"We think it's really important to give local talent a platform and I know they'll have an invaluable experience working with our cast and creative team."

Chance to hear popular classics

THE Northern Chamber Orchestra (NCO), Springs into The Four Seasons with popular classics at The Atkinson, Southport, on Saturday, June 13.

The NCO, directed by Nicholas Ward, will be giving its first–ever concert at The Atkinson Studio at 7.30pm.

The NCO is regarded as one of the country's top, professional chamber orchestras. While it regularly performs in Cheshire and presents an annual season in Warrington and Halton, this is the first time that audiences local to Southport will have the chance to see the orchestra in action at a nearby venue.

The Spring into The Four Seasons concert presents a sparkling mix of well–known, popular classics, such as Vivaldi The Four Seasons and Jeremiah Clarke Trumpet Voluntary, along with works by Mozart.

Latest competition winners announced

DEAR SACRED HEART OF JESUS

In the past I have asked for many favours.
This time I ask for one special favour.
(mention it)

Take it dear heart of Jesus and place it within your own broken heart where your Father sees it. Then in his merciful eyes it will become your favour, not mine.

Amen

Say this prayer for three days, promise publication and your favour will be granted. Never to be failed.

E.B.

PRAYER

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.

(Make Request).

There are none that can withstand your powers. Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 Times).

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3 times).

Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.

This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published. C.M

Introducing the new Japanese sports car you've never heard of

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.blogspot.com

The Mitsuoka Roadster is definitely an acquired taste Code NA

APOLOGIES if you've come here expecting a thorough dusting down of the new Vauxhall Astra.

As family–friendly hatches go it's hugely important, given that it's built in this neck of the woods and if you aren't buying one, chances are you'll know someone who'll inevitably get assigned one by their fleet manager.

But while I'm looking forward to getting a go in one it's not the snippet of motoring news that registers highest on the Simister–ometer. New Vauxhall Astras come along every couple of years.

Someone deciding they're going to import offerings from Japan's weirdest car company, on the other hand, is genuinely curious stuff. A warm welcome, then, to Mitsuoka!

Chances are you've no idea who or what a Mitsuoka is, because for years they've been confined to Japan. In essence what the company doesis it taps into the Orient's obsession with woolly British nostalgia by taking other company's models and then giving them the sort of radiator grille you'd normally find on a Morris Oxford. Ever seen those Nissan Micras rejigged to look a (tiny) bit like a Jaguar Mk2? That's Mitsuoka's handiwork. As is the Galue, a mid–range Nissan made to look like a 1950s Bentley.

Until now, these utterly Marmite and endearingly odd cars have only ventured over here through the world of unofficial imports, but now you can buy one of its cars in Britain for the first time. The Mitsuoka Roadster might very well be a Mazda MX–5 pretending to be a Morgan at a fancy dress party – and it might cost a eyebrow–raising £54,000 – but it's that rare thing. It's a brand new car that's positively overflowing with charm and character.

The Surrey firm who've taken the brave decision to import it reckon it'll sell because there are lots of you out there who love the look of Britain's classic cars but can't be bothered spending every weekend in the garage, spanner in hand. That's why it's got a grille clearly nicked off your granddad's Daimler Majestic, and then nailed onto a car with a folding metal roof, ABS and automatic air con.

It'll be a tall order flogging us Brits a Mitsuoka Roadster when it costs two grand more than a Porsche Boxster S, but I reckon after the departure of Daihatsu there's room for another oddball manufacturer from the Far East.

No matter how horrifically retro its offerings look.

David Simister is news editor of Classic Car Weekly

New Skoda Superb

By David Simister

AN ESTATE version of the new Škoda Superb is available to order now, with the first cars arriving here in September. It has 660 litres of boot space – 27 more than the car it replaces – and that goes up to 1,950 litres when you fold the rear seats down. The load–lugger accounts for more than third of all Superb sales.

Keep in touch with the local news and views on our website www.champnews.com

Did you know? The Champion series of newspapers now has eight titles across Sefton, West Lancashire and North Liverpool... That's over 290,000 readers every week! *PUBLISHERS STATEMENT

Skipper leads from front as Ormskirk regain top spot

Report by Glenn Wallworth

ORMSKIRK replaced New Brighton at the top of the Liverpool & District Cricket Competition Premier Division table with a 58–run home win over Leigh.

The hosts elected to bat first with in–form skipper Matty Glayzer (72) and Andy Baybutt (39) paving the way for a 55–over declaration on 190–8, with Richard Dempster (3–42) and Matty McKiernan (3–52) the pick of the bowlers.

In reply, Ross Zelem (60) and Hedley Molyneux (25) got the visitors off to a great start, but the innings then crumbled from 99–2 to 132 all out, as Liam Hurt (5–51) and Dane Currency (3–40) bowled Ormskirk back to the summit.

Southport & Birkdale recorded a remarkable three–run home win over leaders New Brighton.

The hosts elected to bat first on a wearing wicket that was used by Lancashire and Derbyshire only three days previously and from the off batting was difficult, particularly against spinner Ashraf Nawab who reduced the hosts to 66–6 with only Josh Bohannon (37) offering much resistance.

However, a last–wicket stand of 31 between Aussie keeper James McCombie (40*) and Andy Warhurst (2) propelled S&B from 101–9 to 132 all out.

In reply the visitors looked well set for victory on 75–1, with lifelong supporter Paul Halsall giving up the ghost and going home early.

From the moment he left the ground the game took a dramatic swing and in no time S&B were back in it with skipper Chris Firth and Chris Brownlow taking three wickets apiece to reduce the leaders to 97–6.

Upal Fernando (25) then took the score to 118–6 before Bohannon got in on the wickets with a couple and Firth took another and at 118–9 it was anyone's game particularly when two chances went down.

One last twist in the tail then saw the visitors move to 129–9, before Nawab swung a Bohannon delivery straight up in the air and McCombie waited an age for the ball to drop out of the clouds and fall into his waiting gloves to give S&B a remarkable win.

Northern elected to bat at Lytham and duly declared after 48.4 overs on 220–5, thanks to Stephen Lucas (72), Davy Smith (47*), Justin Snow (24) and Liam Grey (35).

In reply, Lytham managed to hold out for a draw on 177–9, thanks to an unbeaten 59 from Ben Saunders and 54 from Dan Edwards, with Tom Sephton taking 5–52.

Third placed Formby were put in to bat at bottom–of–the–table Rainhill and eventually declared after 59.4 overs on 154–8, with Elliot Ketteringham (37), Jude Mahadanaarachchi (29) and Jack Vale (24) scoring the bulk of the runs, whilst Mohammad Qureshi took 4–43.

In reply Alex Lines quickly removed the top three, but 50 from Qureshi and 36 from Mike Rotheram helped hold Formby at bay as they closed on 131–9 off 56 overs, with Lines (4–43) and Vale (3–13) the pick of the bowlers.

In the First Division, Fleetwood Hesketh were hammered by 173 runs at title favourites Colwyn Bay.

Zac Gidlow (86) and George Johansen (90) fully justified batting first as the hosts declared after 45 overs on 222–6.

In reply, Samed Fallah took 5–13 from 13 overs and Ryan Holtby took 3–18 as Fleetwood were dismissed for just 49, with Dean Skelton (21) the only batsman to reach double figures.

Ainsdale had the better of a home draw against second–placed Maghull.

The hosts chose to bat and declared after 54 overs on 221–9, thanks in the main to Mal Swift (84*), Mark Foster (47) and skipper Andy Barlow (32), with Declan Devine (3–44) and Ryan Swiers (3–61) taking the bowling honours.

In reply, Liam Crilly (40) and Aussie Joel Brockley (33) top–scored for the visitors who ended on 161–8 off 54 overs, with Adnan Rasool taking 5–59.

In the Second Division Hightown St Mary's lost at home by three wickets to Sutton.

The hosts chose to bat and were dismissed for 125, with Shaun Vosloo (37) and Bright Njanji (24) top–scoring, whilst Jamie Greener took 5–31.

In reply, skipper Adam Onion (32), Jamie Greener (28) and Jon Green (22) took the visitors to victory on 127–7 with Njanji taking 3–33.

• This weekend's local LDCC fixtures (1pm): Formby v Ormskirk, Leigh v Southport & Birkdale, Northern v Rainhill, Fleetwood Hesketh v Prestatyn, Maghull v Newton–le–Willows, St Helens v Ainsdale, Burscough v Birkenhead St Mary's and Wavertree v Hightown St Mary's.

Burscough make it six out of six to go 29 points clear of Second Division rivals

BURSCOUGH maintained their impressive start to the campaign in the Second Division of the Liverpool & District Cricket Competition, making it six wins out of six with a 95–run success away to Orrell Red Triangle.

The home side won the toss and elected to put the visitors in to bat, but after an early success with the wicket of Lee Berrie for just eight runs, they soon had cause to rue the decision as Burscough built up a good total.

Ryan Hughes (15) and wicketkeeper Michael Bimpson steadied the ship, putting on 34 for the second wicket.

Then Bimpson (88) and Brendan Domigan (77) added a match–winning 150 partnership to put the School Lane outfit firmly in the driving seat.

Alan Murray (31*) and skipper Jon Stone (22) also made useful contributions as Burscough amassed 257–7 declared off 59.2 overs.

Phil Taberner with 3–66 was pick of the home bowlers.

In reply, Orrell made a good start with openers David Naylor (39) and Andrew Mottram (31) putting on 51 for the first wicket.

Once the breakthough had been made though they to slipped 162 all out with Jon Stone (5–51) their tormentor–in–chief taking his Burscough side 29 points clear at the top.

Soccer girls on target for county finals

TALENTED girl footballers from St Anne's Catholic Primary defeated rivals from 14 other local schools to win a place at a prestigious county–wide sporting extravaganza.

The Aughton Street hot–shots triumphed in a high–scoring district qualifying tournament staged at the JMO Sports Park in Skelmersdale and will now represent West Lancashire in the finals of the SPAR Lancashire School Games to be held at Stanley Park, Blackpool on June 30.

Now in its ninth year, the event is the biggest school games scheme in the county and the finals will see more than 2,000 children compete in gymnastics, handball, football, netball, rounders, athletics, tennis and tag rugby.

The girls' football team from St Anne's Primary School celebrate their success

focus on Summer Living

Summertime and the living is easy...

Summer is the time of year where we can finally open our doors and windows and enjoy those long evenings and weekends, sipping a chilled glass of something nice whilst chatting away. It is the time when thoughts turn to revamping outdoor spaces, Barbecues, al fresco living, maybe getting away for the weekend, long walks in the sunshine and generally enjoying the great outdoors. When summer finally arrives on our doorstep, even those midweek evenings are tinged with a holiday glow. We feel free, the kids enjoy being outside, away from TV's and computers and when we do decide to go out for the day, a picnic is something the whole family can get involved with and enjoy.

Focus on Summer Living is your handy guide for making the most of the Summer months, full of tips and fresh ideas to ensure you and your family have a great time this Summer.

A SEASON ON YOUR PLATE

Summer is a season that looks glorious on a plate. The foods of summer are fresh, uncomplicated and naturally full of flavour. And because summer is a hot season, we generally eat less, making our diets healthier for us without actually thinking too much about it.

The only boundary as far as your plate is concerned is your imagination. Beans on toast summer style can be a very satisfying meal or snack. Just top a thick slice of well toasted garlic rubbed ciabatta with cream cheese, green pesto and top with a mixture of cooked and tender peas and broad beans drizzling a little bit of extra virgin olive oil and a few drops of balsamic vinegar on top before you serve. A few slices of prosciutto or grilled chicken will make this an even more substantial meal. Or try and macerate a few fresh strawberries in a few drops of balsamic vinegar (no, honest!) and a twist or two of cracked black pepper. Let them sit an hour or so and top with a few torn basil leaves. The true taste of summer on a plate and the easiest of desserts.

Summer is the season when taking a little time shopping can reward you with much faster preparation. Ditch the supermarket in favour of your local greengrocer and buy red, ripe tomatoes full of flavour, and tender fresh green beans. Chop a few spring onions, dress the tomatoes and cooked, cool beans with a simple vinaigrette and tumble in some tinned tuna, a few chopped hard boiled eggs and a handful of basil leaves. Hey presto! You have a delicious salad nicoise, fit to rival any French restaurant's offering. Buy some large red peppers and stick them on the barbecue at the end of your cooking while the coals are still hot, turning them until the skin is black. Peel the skin off when cool (put them in a plastic bag tightly shut for a couple of hours or overnight and they will peel easily) and clean them, cutting the flesh in strips. Layer them in a shallow dish drizzling a little olive oil on each layer. They will keep in your fridge for a few days and they are great on pizzas, in salads, with cold meats or even on their own with a chunk of good bread.

Go on, surprise yourself and live a healthy and flavour full summer!

BBQ TIPS

- ✓ Don't cook cold meat. If you're only going to change one thing about your barbecue habits, make sure you always bring your meat back to room temperature before cooking. The biggest struggle with cooking on the barbecue to get the heat from the outside of your steak into the middle without burning the surface to a cinder. The warmer things are in the middle before it goes onto the fire, the easier it is to win the battle.
- ✓ Preheat properly. If you're going to get a good crust on your food and that lovely BBQ flavour, you need your barbecue to be hot before you start cooking. This also helps if you've been a bit slack in the cleaning department.
- ✓ Thin is in. The thinner your meat, the less far the heat has to travel to cook to the middle, so the easier it is to get the inside right without burning the outside. If you really must have 2 inch thick steaks, think about starting them on the barbie to sear and get the flavour and then finishing them in the oven.
- ✓ Don't poke and prod. It takes time for your caramelised BBQ crust to develop and this won't happen if you're continually flipping your steaks and burgers. Only turn once or twice. And definitely don't squash everything down as this forces the juices to run out and leaves you with sad dry meat. Sausages are also best left alone – piercing the skins dries them out.
- ✓ Don't fuel the fire with fat. I used to put the marinade over my meat on the grill and wonder why the flames flared up and turned everything to charcoal. It took me a while but I finally figured it out. Now I make sure my meat is well drained of excess marinade or I cook it on the hot plate. For fatty meat like chops it's best to either trim or cook them on the hot plate and finish them off on the grill.
- ✓ Remember food hygiene. It's funny how the outdoors can make some people forget the basics. Always put your cooked food on a clean plate or chopping board and never add marinade that was used for raw meat to cooked meat. Simple.

Here are some tips to keep your garden healthy & green.

Feed the soil and the soil feeds the plants. Healthy soil promotes healthy plants that are more capable of resisting insect and disease problems. Feed the soil with plenty of compost.

Weed Control. Weeds are a problem in and of themselves, but they also harbour insects and disease. If you weed regularly, particularly at the beginning of the growing season, it should be relatively easy to keep weeds at bay. Take out your dead. Get rid of rotting or dead vegetation such as leaves, pulled weeds and plant stalks. Dying vegetable matter can be a haven for pests.

Disinfect your tools. Keep diseases out of your garden by routinely disinfecting your tools. This is doubly important if your tools come in contact with diseased plant parts.

Stay cool. When heat strikes, provide shade to your plants to keep them from wilting. Cheesecloth makes great shade cover.

Use mulch. A thick layer of mulch deprives weeds and their seeds of light and helps retain soil moisture. Mulch in spring and autumn.

ALWAYS OUT

The secret of a great day out (especially where children are concerned) is planning. And contrary to what many believe a fantastic day out needn't cost the earth. Sunshine, a great park, a brass band and a picnic make most children and families very happy. And we are lucky in this region to have woodlands, beaches and parks available to us in the summer months, all with their own particular brand of attractions designed to make the most of the summer months.

ALWAYS OUT TOP TIPS

- ✓ Make sure the kids have a bucket and spade each and a beach ball. Buy those beforehand as beach or park's shops will be expensive.
- ✓ Take a picnic with you. Keep it simple. Pork pies, sausage rolls, crisps, finger sandwiches and a punnet of strawberries to share will always be popular. Don't forget some chilled water or very weak cordial for the little ones.
- ✓ Keep'em cool. Get some extra t shirts, caps and sun cream even if it looks a bit cloudy. We all know how quick everything can turn so take some protection for the rain as well, one never knows!
- ✓ Invest in a cooler. Always have some freeze packs in the freezer for some nice cold water (or a cheeky bottle of rose!)

OUTDOOR DINING ROOM

If the weather is warm and the sun is shining, make a pledge to spend more time enjoying your outdoor space this summer. Your parties and barbecues are one thing but you can also live day by day, from one evening to another outside, as long as you organise yourself a little before hand.

Living outside essentially is like extending a holiday or experiencing freedom that long winter months indoors never allow.

Whether your outdoor space is large or small, you will need to commit to living in it as much as you can. So first thing is a good tidy up. Make it look as nice as you can, clean it up, get a fresh vibe going by either changing a few things, repainting or replacing the fencing or buying some new garden furniture. You are basically wanting to live a couple of months outdoors but after a long day at work, sitting out needs to be as easy and natural as seating in your lounge.

If you know the day ahead is going to be nice and hot, dress your outside space before going to work. A cushion on a chair, the barbecue ready to go, cleaned out and gleaming, food ready and marinating in the fridge, your favourite wine chilling. In other words, entice yourself coming back.

SUMMER DANGERS

We live for those few weeks of sun and when the time finally comes we embrace it with all our hearts. However, those lovely days can also be a threat to our health if we don't follow a few simple rules of awareness. Here are our top ten tips to make sure you have the best summer ever.

SUMMER DANGERS TOP TEN

10 - FOOD POISONING. Food left out too long and warmed up, badly cooked barbecue food, too many raw, uncovered foods in fridges can all mean food poisoning. Bad enough for adults but children can really suffer. Be also careful also as you revive old gadgets (electric fly swatters, barbecue motorised rotisserie, etc) and leave batteries out for toddlers to play with. Just be extra vigilant, cover all foods well and keep things refrigerated as long as possible. Get rid of any potential dangers soon as you see them.

9 – DROWNING. The water may look inviting but rivers/lakes/ponds are deep and unforgiving. The water may be icy cold, take your breath away and the worse can happen in minutes. If signs are up forbidding swimming, there is a reason. Don't be a fool.

8 – INSECT BITES. Children in particular can really suffer. Dress your little ones in light clothes, long sleeves and pants if possible and light colours. There are products you can also spray to repel insects but be aware that some are highly chemical.

7 – SUN DAMAGE. This is a well known source of discomfort that later in life can lead to much worse. The best way is still to use a good sun cream. Be aware that some cheaper makes may not be as effective as you would like and that where children and elderly people are concerned it is better to over protect than under protect. Go for a high factor for yourself to start with and gradually decrease the strength. Remember that it is always better to NOT burn.

6 – KEEP HYDRATED. In the summer, many older people really suffer and often, it is due to not drinking enough. In the hot weather, drinking lots of water is primordial and the elderly in particular are at risk as they can sometimes simply forget. Water is always best but very weak cordial can encourage a child to drink more.

5 – FIRE. Barbecues can be lethal. Not by themselves of course but by what some people do with them. Squirting flammable liquids on the flames to encourage a quicker start can create a backlash and burn, leaving a barbecue unattended after cooking time can be dangerous as it will continue to generate heat for a long while. Cooking on a fire that is not ready will blacken the food outside and keep the inside raw... in short, beware. When you start the fire, build it well with sticks and a few pieces of coal, topping up as you need. Count 20 to 30 minutes before cooking. Only cook when the coal is covered in white ash NOT when the flames are showing and douse with water as soon as you have finished. Do not allow children or pets anywhere near till the following day.

4 – CARS. Do NOT leave children and dogs inside parked cars for ANY moment of time. Not for 30 seconds even! Often, an accident involving a child or dog left in a car is due to the fact that the driver thought he or she "would only take a minute". A minute becomes twenty and in some instances it is too late when they finally get back. The heat and lack of air as well as dehydration can all play a part here so do not be tempted to chance that one.

3 – TEENAGERS HEARTBREAK – Hard enough to be (or have) a teenager but this is the season when school breaks up and school romances do too. Having a fifteen year old in tow in Spain dragging her feet because she'd rather be with Matt (who is in Portugal and probably having a great time) is no joy. And if she finds romance on her holiday with you, she'll break her heart AGAIN when it is time to come home. Not much anyone can do, being aware of what could be ahead is the best we can offer.

2- SLEEP. When it gets really hot, sleep can be difficult. Air conditioning is the obvious answer but shelling out a couple of hundred pounds for something rarely used is not practical. Instead, keep all shades and curtains drawn during the day to keep room down to its coolest and have cold shower before you go to bed. Change your sheets to Egyptian cotton if you can, a light and comfortable material easily available nowadays. Keep pets away and have a glass of iced water by your side. Avoid watching TV or read too long. Go to bed when you are really sleepy!

1- HAYFEVER. The plague for many and one that comes almost uniquely with outdoor living. The advice here is more for people who are lucky enough to not know what hayfever is like! Just be aware that people can really suffer when you throw your next barbecue. Avoid tending to the garden or mowing the lawn before the guests come. If you stay inside, vacuum thoroughly (pollen loves carpets) and avoid cut flowers displays. Anyone with hayfever should be prepared anyway but prevention is as always better than cure.

So there you have it. Your guide to the perfect summer. It can be a wonderful season of freedom and where health reigns supreme, without anyone having to think too hard about it. All you need to do if you want to have a great season of outdoor living is commit to the idea and prepare a few things ahead, ensuring you will live that "holiday" feeling over and over again. And hope that the weather will commit to sunshine too. Whatever you choose to do, have a great summer!
